Lead in Air-Line Work

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 10. (Exclusive)—Herbert C. Hoover, Federal Secretary of Commerce, met in conference at the Hotel Senator today with the directors of the California Development Association and discussed business and agricultural problems of interest to California. The meeting was presided over by R. B. Hale of San Francisco, president of the association.

In discussing aviation, Secretary Hoover declared that California has the only paying commercial air line in operation in America and he suggested that this state take the leadership in the complete development of privately owned transcontinental air mail lines.

Hoover informed the directors, who represented every section of California, that the government will not turn over the transcontinental mail business to private interests until the turnover can be complete. He said the government is again turning over the business pie.

AIR PORTS IN NEED

He declared California could assume the leadership in bringing about maximum development by establishing a line as far east as Chicago, with terminals in San Francisco and Los Angeles. Hoover stressed the leadership of developing municipal air ports in California. He said there can't be public patronage of the air until it is done.

Hoover expressed keen interest in the association's grape arbor plan and declared that if successful it would pave the way to solution of marketing perishable products of California. At the present time, the state is utilizing less than 10 per cent of the potential market for her products.

PROBLEMS DISCUSSED

Water conservation and other agricultural problems were discussed by Hoover who was delighted with the report of the five regional committees of the association, revealing business conditions in the state to be stable and satisfactory. The reports were summarized by William Garland of Los Angeles, first vice-president.

Garland also reported that the plans for the Olympic Games to be held in California in 1932 are taking form and he said the state and the nation soon will be asked to give cooperation in making this international sporting event a big success.

The regional vice-presidents present at the conference were: Clinton E. Miller, Los Angeles; A. Henry Austin, Fresno; Fred W. E. Bennett, Redding; and Joseph R. Knowland, Oakland.

RECLAMATION NEED

OF CALIFORNIA DEFINED

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 10. (P)—"In studying California's problems it has come home to us that water is the nation's problem, and that every part of the country is in need of water development," Secretary of Commerce Hoover declared in an address at the state fair here today.

"Every great drainage basin is capable of such development, and we believe that the time has arrived for an extended program that will require larger works and greater vision," he said.

"California will, of course, share in this program. There are three or four million acres of land here that could be cultivated with a better water supply."

MUST GO SLOW

"However, if I could wear the magic wand and put water on this land, I would hesitate to do it now. We must take our time and avoid the danger of overproduction. It probably would be fifteen years, if we started now, before our program would be under way."

"America has at last recovered from the effects of the war, which cost the taxpayers $5,000,000,000. The result is that we are now enjoying a higher standard of living than ever before in our history, and this means the highest standard ever enjoyed by any people in the world's history."

"We hear much talk of the tremendous waste of the automobile, but last year more money was put in the savings bank than ever before by our people while an automobile was provided, and this is a very encouraging fact."

WAR BENEFITS

"A number of things have come out of the war. There are more of the young in our schools than ever before and this has increased our efficiency to a fabulous degree. There is a new realization on the part of employer and employee as to their relations. And American labor realizes that the number of jobs and the wages depend upon the productivity of the laborer."

"We have recently witnessed an entire change in the policies of labor, as expressed by the American Federation of Labor."

"The objective of our nation is to lift the standard of comfort to the end that we may have it for the development of those spiritual things not developed by poverty but by prosperity."

RICHARDSON BOOSTS
HOOVER FOR PRESIDENCY

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 10. (P)—Gov. Richardson, speaking at the state fair grounds today before a large gathering under the auspices of the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce and the Retail Grocers' association, referred to Secretary of Commerce Hoover as one to whom all signs pointed as the next president of the United States. Hoover was present to deliver an address.

"Hoover is a great American and a great Californian," said Gov. Richardson, "and has qualified by service and experience to be the chief executive of this nation. He is entirely worthy of such an honor and equipped for such responsibility. The people have turned to him in a matter rarely known as a trustworthy and capable leader. This is no ordinary citizen we are honoring. His indication is that he will be called to accept the highest honor in the gift of the people."

MODERN GIRLS DEFENDEDFlappers of Today More Reliant and Have Initiative, Catholic Sisters Declare

SOUTH BEND (Ind.) Sept. 10. (P)—A modern girl, with all her devotion to jazz, her freedom and frankness, finds many defenders in the ranks of prominent educators among the Catholic sisters. Deana, regents and presidents of leading convents in the United States are in South Bend attending the International Federation of Catholic Alumnae this week. Several of these expressed to the Associated Press for the first time for publication their summation of the modern girl as she compares with her mother and grandmother.

The popularly called "flapper" seldom shows her real self during the transitory period from girlhood to womanhood, deans and prefects in six schools agreed. Actually, they hold, she is the same domestic creature her mother was, assuming a veneer of sophistication and blaseness.

LACK OF RELIGION FLAYED

The sisters rely on the Catholic training they give the girls and their faith to guide them along the road to righteousness after they are graduated.

Lack of home influence and sympathy and a failure to include practical training in religion in their curriculum, the sisters believe, are responsible to a great extent for the moral breakdown and increased delinquency of the modern girl. They believe that the influence of the modern girl is not so much felt by the indulger as it is by those with whom she comes in contact to see and hear.

Sister Thomas Aquinas of the Dominican order, dean of Rosary College, Calhoun, believes the greater freedom of thought and action afforded young women today has made them more reliable and responsible members of society. Authority does not so much awe the girl of today as it did her mother. Sister Thomas said she questions reasons for rules and orders and she is in the habit of questioning the Chicago nun, who has 600 girls under her jurisdiction, declared.

GIRLS MORE RELIANT

Sister Claudia, dean of St. Mary's College at Notre Dame, Ind., is one of the best-known educators of the country. She has been dean of the students at St. Mary's. The modern girl, Sister Claudia believes, is more initiative than those of other days. She is adventurous and because she is so, she is more reliable. Sister Claudia is adamant regarding smoking among girls. She is in the habit of questioning the Chicago nun, who has 600 girls under her jurisdiction, declared.

Unflatteringly*Body Will be Society That Aided Him

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10. (P)—Isaac Wolfgang, Los Angeles milk-bottle murderer, was hanged at the State prison here today. The trap was sprung at 10 o'clock. Wolfgang was pronounced dead eleven minutes and fifteen seconds later.

Within forty-five seconds after he left the death cell, Wolfgang was on the gallows. There was no movement of the body after he dropped and prison officials believe that he was killed instantly.

Wolfgang engaged between his guards somewhat as he was led to the gallows, but his feet did not falter. He mounted the gallows with firm step, and once on the platform, looked up curiously at the noose. Father Michael Callahan, Catholic priest from San Rafael, accompanied him.

There were forty-three spectators and twenty guards present. Wolfgang ate a dinner of fried chicken last night and a generous portion of bacon and eggs for breakfast today. He appeared to rest well throughout the night.

KILLS OVER MILK BOTTLE

The case of Wolfgang was one of the most interesting in California criminal annals. Four years ago he shot and killed Oliver V. Dinmore, a Los Angeles policeman, while Dinmore was trying to arrest him for stealing a bottle of milk. He escaped after the slaying, but was later recaptured.

On May 28, 1934, twenty minutes before a court was to open, Wolfgang was told that a court order had postponed his death. He suffered a complete collapse and was taken to the hospital. The case went to the United States Supreme court, which ruled that the state could not appeal to the individual justice. This failed, however.

BEQUESTS BODY

In a will made yesterday, Wolfgang bequeathed his body to the Catholic church. He left a large sum of money to the Catholic church, and a smaller sum to the Los Angeles Police Department. He also left a large sum of money to the Los Angeles Police Department. He also left a large sum of money to the Los Angeles Police Department.

Manufacture of Firearms in Nation Declines

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10. (P)—Despite what has been heralded as a nation-wide "crime wave," there would seem to be less shooting in the United States now than there was two years ago.

The Department of Commerce reported today that the manufacture of firearms in 1935 was valued at 14.1 per cent less than that of 1933, while the 1935 production of ammunition and related products showed a decline of 19 per cent from the 1933 figure.

Firearms production amounted in 1935 to $17,664,549 as compared with $18,729,263 in 1933. Ammunition production was valued at $18,729,263 in 1933, as compared with $18,729,263 in 1933.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10. (P)—Dr. Zalkoff, surgeon of Los Angeles, was at liberty today on $500 bail while the police and coroner's office were investigating the death here yesterday of Mrs. Louise Wulbers, mother-in-law of San Jose, who died while undergoing a "face-lifting" at the hands of Dr. Zalkoff.

Dr. Zalkoff, who appeared to be verging on a collapse, said he plans to return to Los Angeles tonight. His appearance in court was continued two weeks pending the finding of a coroner's inquest.

Dr. Zalkoff, who is licensed by the State Board of Medical Examiners, stressed the statement today that he is not a "beauty doctor," but a plastic surgeon. He said he followed his profession while serving with the Russian army during the war.

Mrs. Wulbers had been under treatment by Dr. Zalkoff five minutes before she died. The doctor's assistant, who was with her at the time, said she died of a heart attack. Dr. Zalkoff said he was not a "beauty doctor," but a plastic surgeon.

CHICAGO, Sept. 10. (P)—Three robbers today held at bay two mail clerks, seized $137,000 in pay-roll money on a Grand Trunk train at the southwestern edge of Chicago, and sped back into the city in a waiting automobile.

All of the plunder was contained in a single mail pouch carrying $47,000 from the First National Bank of Chicago and $90,000 from the Continental and Commercial National Bank, a suburb. At least $150,000 in another pouch for the pay roll of three firms, was overlooked.

Timing their work with the train schedule, two of the robbers who entered the car got off at Evergreen Park and ran to a third member of the gang waiting in an automobile. The third member of the gang, after driving through a cemetery, was arrested.

Investigators could find but one of two witnesses. The robbers were away before the train had come to a full stop, and although the clerks at once gave the alarm it was too late.

AIRPLANE SEARCH

Deputy Sheriff Francis J. Carahan of Palmdale, owner of an airplane, was notified and immediately rose in the air for a search of the surrounding territory, without avail.

The mail car was in charge of John Kelly, a veteran clerk. As it left Chicago Lake Station, two men wearing amber-colored jumpsuits entered the mail car. Kelly jumped for the bell cord, but he was too late.

While one intruder showed Kelly Kelly and his assistant, Robert A. McCook, entered the car, the other began kicking through the stack of mail pouches.

Edward Johnson, a flagman, entered the car, and the robber on guard immediately jerked an empty pouch over his head. Before the second station stop, Kelly said the two pouches containing the $137,000 were stolen.

Robert Adams, townmaster at Evergreen Park, said he saw a car parked along the right of way shortly after the robbery. As the car started, he said he saw two men jump from the car and run.

Kelly and McCook were able to give but a meager description of the robbers. Postoffice Inspector Miller announced that the government will pay $6000 for information leading to arrest or conviction of the robbers.

He swam the 21 miles and 1500 yards in 11 hours and 5 minutes. He had broken the record established by a German swimmer, who had swum the Channel in 12 hours and 15 minutes.

Michael received his tonight with open arms, not only as a record-breaker, but as the first Frenchman to swim the Channel. He also found that the 15,000 or so francs he had spent in making his ten Channel swims—he failed nine times before he succeeded—were likely to be repaid. The French government had offered him a reward of 15,000 francs if he swam the Channel in less than 12 hours.

Autumn Sewing From Two Angles

Home Sewing and School Sewing Classes Considered

THE Broadway, Sept. 11—Domestic—(Wash Goods—Second Floor)

Every practical school wardrobe calls for its quota of garments made from durable, wash fabrics. Mothers of girls and boys of school ages will find a number of interesting suggestions in the following paragraphs.

Girls who expect to attend school sewing classes, which have for their object the making of useful garments, will do well to take particular notice of The Broadway's low prices, since they furnish their own materials for the making of aprons, lingerie, etc.

Questions From The Broadway Domestic Section

Past color English prints, 32 inches wide, are expected to attract much notice, because of their smooth soft finish, clever school atmosphere patterns, and their moderate price of 50c yard. Almost unbelievable at this price, is an unusual group of rayon striped madras, 32 inches wide, in neat shirting patterns, at 25c yard. Only 15c per yard is asked for white, twilled outing flannel, napped on both sides, and of good weight. This is twenty-seven inches wide.

Wash Materials Section

English Broadcloth, 36 inches wide, in plain and fancy patterns, all fast color—at 25c yard.

Polka dotted and conventional pattern fancy voiles in a big assortment, are 35 inches wide at 25c yard.

New! Mannish! The Bobby Skirt

THE BROADWAY, September 11.—It's new, and it's mannish, and it's all the rage, now, among the smartly dressed school girls. It's called the "Bobby" skirt.

Unlike anything else in the feminine fashion world, the Bobby skirt is a departure.

On the first day of school last week, one progressive young miss went home to her mother with the announcement that she "wanted a Bobby skirt." When Mother investigated, this is what she found the Bobby skirt to be:

A skirt which hangs from the hips, like a man's trousers, belted—(also like trousers) with a sports belt, and flaunting a hip pocket. And never were such dashing lines as this smartly flaring skirt had!

This mother decided that it was no wonder "all the well-dressed girls in school" were wearing these ultra-modish skirts. And she promptly saw to it that her own daughter had one!

She purchased it at The Broadway, Fourth Floor.

DR. DAY HERE ON WAY TO ORIENT

Carnegie Scientist En Route to Tokio Gathering

Pays Calls on Savants of Local Institutions

Expresses High Regard for Achievements

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
 PASADENA, Sept. 10.—Dr. Arthur L. Day, director of the geophysical laboratory of the Carnegie Institution of Washington and a noted authority on geology, was in Pasadena today for a short trip en route to the Pan-Pacific Scientific Congress convention in Tokyo, Oct. 10.

One of forty American scientists at the convention, Dr. Day will represent the Carnegie Institution, of which the Mt. Wilson Observatory here is a part, and the Carnegie Corporation of New York.

Dr. Day's specialty is seismological research. He was here last spring helping in the organization of the seismological laboratory of the Carnegie Institution here and in surrounding cities, where earth movements will be studied. He called on scientists at the California Institute of Technology and the Mt. Wilson Observatory today and expressed his high regard for the important scientific work being done at both institutions.

Railway Board Report Shows More Activity

Intense activity marked the operation of the State Railroad Commission in the fiscal year 1925-1926, according to an annual report issued yesterday. During the period 1925-1926, the commission rendered a total of 535 more than in the preceding fiscal period, the report shows.

Property valued in excess of $100,000,000 is involved in proceedings which the commission rendered during the year but no decisions were rendered, in addition to cases finally settled.

The commission considered 116 formal and 1648 informal complaints in and held 670 hearings, of which 215 were conducted here.

HER STORY AND THE FACTS

Following are the chronological highspots in the movements of Mrs. Lorraine Villa May McDonald Wiseman since the month of May when she declares she spent from May 19 to 29 with her mysterious sister "Miss X" and Kenneth J. Ormiston in the Carmel bungalow, as she relates them, and as the investigation by The Times disclosed.

WHAT MYSTERIOUS MRS. WISEMAN SAYS

May 1 to 18: Peacefully pursuing her duties as head of the "technical department" of a large law firm in San Francisco where she says she worked continuously for three years.

May 18: Receives word from sister that she is ill and will arrive following day at Benedict bungalow in Carmel with fiancé, Kenneth J. Ormiston.

May 19: Arrives at Carmel bungalow between 10 and 11 a.m. in automobile from San Francisco, accompanied by son, at 11:30 o'clock meets Mr. Benedict, owner of the cottage.

May 20: Writes out list of groceries on two slips of scrap paper, later made famous by her disappearance from grand jury room. Takes charge of household, sister is ill and confined to bed. Ormiston at cottage during this time.

May 21: Still acting as bungalow housekeeper.

May 22: Returns to San Francisco to attend to business, returning to Carmel next morning.

May 23 to 27: Time spent at bungalow with intermittent trips to "San Francisco," attending to business in the law office where she said she was employed.

May 28: Signed "Mrs. McIntyre" to receipt for telegram sent from Oakland to bungalow by Ormiston which read: "Leave expires tonight."

May 29: Left bungalow in late afternoon for return trip to San Francisco because Ormiston and "Miss X" were leaving hiding place for destination unknown.

May 30: Spends day with mother and daughter in San Francisco, returns to work in "law office" next morning.

STATEMENT BY WOOLEY

Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson and her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, could not be reached at the Temple last night for a statement in regard to the sensational turn given the appearance here of Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman as the Carmel mystery woman. Roland Rich Wooley, their attorney, however, issued the following statement when informed Mrs. Wiseman is an imposter:

Any action Mrs. Wiseman has taken was done on her own initiative as I explained the day after she first told the public of her reputed part in the Carmel incident. I have insisted from the first that any action on the part of anyone is unnecessary because it has been proven by witnesses who saw the woman in Carmel that she was not Mrs. McPherson.

One of these witnesses, Mr. Benedict, has stated that Mrs. McPherson was not the woman who rented the cottage. This statement was made the day before Mrs. Wiseman made any public announcement of her asserted part in the case.

When Mrs. Wiseman appeared at the office of Judge Berdin in Salinas to see him and myself and to tell us she was who was at Carmel I advised her to see Mr. Keyes, the District Attorney, who was investigating the case. Upon my return from Salinas I notified Mr. Keyes of the visit Mrs. Wiseman had made to Judge Berdin and myself and that I had instructed her to see him and tell her story to the authorities who were investigating the case. I suggested to him that he go into the matter and make such investigation as seemed advisable.

REGISTER OF MISS X PROVES IMPOSTER AND FUGITIVE

'Mrs. Wiseman's' Story of Stay at Carmel With Ormiston False; Arrested on Felony Charge

Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman, the woman who publicly announced that she and her sister, a mysterious "Miss X," instead of Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson, were the companions of Kenneth G. Ormiston in the cottage at Carmel-by-the-Sea, has perpetrated a hoax on the public and is an imposter, results of a thorough investigation by The Times established last night. Documentary evidence obtained by this newspaper proves that Mrs. Wiseman in reality is Mrs. Villa May McDonald Wiseman Sleaf of San Francisco and Los Angeles, and that as Villa May McDonald she was in Los Angeles working as a seamstress on dates she says she occupied the Benedict cottage at Carmel. Records at police headquarters also disclose the fact that Villa May McDonald is wanted here on charges of passing bad checks, a felony. A complaint on other check charges also has been made against Villa May McDonald in San José, Cal., while in Los Angeles there are men and women who want to find her in an effort to recover money ranging in amounts from $5 to $1000. In addition to the various records and documents obtained, eleven witnesses, most of them victims of the woman's operations, have identified photographs of Mrs. Wiseman, taken at Angelus Temple at the time she first made her story known, as Villa May McDonald.

Shortly before midnight Mrs. Wiseman was arrested by Detective Lieutenant Lane and Policewoman Lane on the charge of passing fictitious checks, a felony, after three witnesses had personally identified her. The warrant served on Mrs. Wiseman was issued July 28 in Judge Amrose's court, following complaint of R. Laphuiz, on two counts. Although caught in numerous direct contradictions, she denied she was Villa May McDonald and said that woman was her twin sister. Then she offered to rectify all losses occasioned by the McDonald woman's actions.

The McDonald woman disappeared from her rooming-house, 1154 South Alvarado street, July 19, last, leaving a trail of bad checks and puzzled creditors behind.

She reappeared as "Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman of San Francisco," August 21, last, when she met newspaper men at the office of Roland Rich Wooley, attorney for Mrs. McPherson and Angelus Temple, and gave out a long interview in which she asserted she accompanied her sister, "Miss X," to the Benedict cottage and was the woman who had been carrying the missing sister.

ACTED AS "CHAPERONE"

In the interview Mrs. Wiseman said she went to Carmel at the request of her sister, "Miss X," who knew Ormiston under the name of George McIntyre. Her sister, she said, planned to be married to the former Angelus Temple radio operator, and she accompanied her in the role of a chaperone. She fixed the time of her presence in Carmel between the morning of May 19 and the late afternoon of May 29. She also stated that she was present in the house where Mrs. Ormiston lived first three days after the arrival of Ormiston and his woman companion, Mrs. McPherson, and then for the remainder of May 19.

Mrs. Wiseman's story created a sensation and was hailed by Mrs. McPherson personally, by her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, and their attorney as a complete vindication in the Carmel incident.

After the dismissal of the county grand jury by Judge Keetch and the publication of handwritten samples found on grocery-order slips written by the woman occupant of the Carmel cottage, Mrs. Wiseman again came forward, promising to produce the much-heralded "Miss X" in person, with other witnesses, and gave out for publication handwritten specimens which, she said, were written by her and resembled those of her sister.

Suspicion first was directed at Mrs. Wiseman and her story by The Times because of her refusal to give samples of her handwriting, who she first related her story in Atty. Wooley's office and by her subsequent refusal to reproduce for newspapermen the signature of "Mrs. McIntyre," signed by the occupant of the Carmel cottage in receipt for a telegram delivered there May 28. Photographic copies of this signature were in existence here but never had been published.

DISCLOSURES LISTED

Briefly, The Times investigation disclosed the following facts:

That Mrs. Wiseman, as Villa May McDonald, her maiden name, worked in the home of Mrs. J. P. Jaffe, 4621 Oakwood avenue, from May 11 to May 26. She was paid in checks, reproduced in this issue of The Times. She, in person, cashed the last check at the Beverly and Western branch of the Security Trust and Savings Bank on May 27. These checks, and a receipt for $5, rental on a sewing machine delivered to Mrs. Jaffe's home by W. Edes, 119 South Western avenue, on May 24, showed that she introduced as "Robert McDonald."

MRS. KENNEDY BEFORE EXPOSE

HIGHLY LAUDS 'MRS. WISEMAN'

Implicit confidence in "Mrs. Wiseman" as a woman of "very high character" was expressed by Mrs. Minnie Kennedy at Angelus Temple late yesterday afternoon and Mrs. Kennedy said she believed the woman could be depended on to the end. This was before it became known Mrs. Wiseman was a fraud.

A reporter talked with "Mother" Kennedy about Mrs. Wiseman's repeated statements that Miss X would be produced and that the woman repeatedly had failed not only to produce Miss X but that she also had broken several of her own appointments.

Mrs. Kennedy said:

"If she failed to keep any appointments she must have had some very good reason for doing so. There are a good many people's interests to look out for in this matter and I had some reason for other. I am sure that you can depend on her as she is a very high-class woman, anyone who has talked with her and been with her would know that. I think she made a mistake if she promised to produce Miss X. I don't think Miss X ought to be brought into it. But we are not doing anything in this. We are letting the woman handle her own story."

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

A NEW pathway has been opened for the feet of the young men to travel.

The Mexican government has announced its intention to open a huge empire of farm lands for settlement by immigrant farmers. It inevitably follows that her almost priceless resources will become available to the world.

To the people of this country it will mean an outlet for restless and adventurous young blood; the curtain rises on another great drama, like the story of our old American border.

To the half-starved people of Europe it means an escape from industrial suffocation.

Mexico has thrown out a life line to the world.

WORLD STARVATION

No one person can dodge the conclusion that this old world is due to face wholesale starvation some day.

Statisticians have discovered that it requires two and one-half acres of productive land to feed one white person.

At the rate the population of the world is increasing there should be 12,000,000 acres a year added to the productive areas under cultivation.

But as a matter of fact, farm lands are decreasing in area.

In one district of the State of New York 10,000 acres have been abandoned as "shot out" country—soil which will no longer produce.

LAND HUNGER

The conclusion is that the world must find new lands or perish.

The most obvious direction of expansion is beyond the southern borders of the United States.

Mexico is a positive El Dorado of rich resources. Beyond Mexico lies South America.

A PROMISING JUNGLE

Faustine Dr. Snellegre, a German woman explorer, has returned from the jungles of Brazil reporting that a huge empire of rich river highlands awaits the coming of the white man. She and other scientists believe that these South American lands will witness the next era of human history. It will be the last new civilization to be established.

THE FUTURE

The rush that will attend these new land opportunities presents both dangers and safeguards.

Sober-minded farmers with crops in the ground will not lightly join revolutions; but such a vast increase of interests on the part of Europe in the Western Hemisphere will considerably complicate our international problems.

Conference on Union Railway Charges Held

State Industrial Accident Commissioners Olmsted and Carrigan yesterday held a conference with General Manager Eter of the Santa Fe Railroad and representatives of the four railway men's unions in regard to a complaint made by the latter that the railroad has been violating the section of the Compensation Act which provides that an employer shall not collect for a month from each employee any part of the cost of disability.

After the hearing it was announced that the complaint will be taken under consideration. The Santa Fe, according to Carrigan, has been collecting $1 a month from each employee to provide hospitals to care for the sick and injured.

The commissioners announced that since the complaint was made March 1, last, the Santa Fe has entered an agreement with the hospital association that it will add an additional 10 per cent to the hospitalization fund in return for the care of injured employees eligible to such care at the railroad's expense.

Charged with obtaining approximately $34,000 belonging to Mrs. Del Valle Cram, 758 Sycamore avenue, a complaint carrying five counts of embezzlement and four of grand larceny was issued against Harold Burkhardt by Deputy Dist. Atty. Murray yesterday. Mrs. Cram is the sister of R. P. Del Valle, president of the board of water and power commissioners. Murray said, adding that Burkhardt married a niece of Brig-Gen. Walter P. Story, in charge of the Southern California division of the State National Guard and owner of the Story Building.

According to the accusation, Burkhardt, as an employee of the stock and bond department of a local bank, obtained the confidence of Mrs. Cram.

Adohr Farms of
Los Angeles Win
Medal for Milk

With a score of 99.1 per cent, the gold medal for certified milk has been awarded to the entry of Adohr Stock Farms of Los Angeles, according to the announcement made by officials of the California State Fair at Sacramento, yesterday. Seven gold medals have been won by this Los Angeles product in State fair milk contests since 1918.

The Adohr farms on Ventura Boulevard are the home of the largest herd of registered and grade, Guernsey cattle in the world, numbering more than 1600.

Since 1923 the attention of health authorities nationally has been directed to the high quality of Los Angeles' milk supply by the first prize won in three nation-wide milk contests by Adohr Guernsey certified milk, which scored 99.5 per cent in the last competition in Dallas, Tex., during April of this year.

Public Works Board in
Move to Cancel Part of
Contract Due to Delay

A ruling by the City Attorney to determine if it will be legal to cancel a portion of the contract on the structural steel for the new City Hall was asked by the Board of Public Works yesterday at a hot session of that body.

The architects of the new building, Austin, Martin & Parkinson, declared that the delivery of the steel was delayed, thus holding up progress on the structure. They said that part of the building had been erected several stories, while no work had been done on other sections.

The board sought the ruling, intimating that if it were permissible a portion of the contract would be cancelled and let out again.

W. B. Kyle, representing the McClintock Marshall Company, the contractor, declared that the contractor firm had the steel was at fault as to making delivery it could not be received on the job.

In rapid succession yesterday, Judge Hahn of the Superior Court sentenced a batch of seven men to San Quentin for periods ranging from one to fourteen years. The men all had been convicted by juries previously of various charges.

Albert Hubert, Melville Glynn and Charles Amos were the list. They were sentenced to San Quentin for periods ranging from one to fourteen years on charges of robbery.

Morris Rothstein, joy rider and occasionally film actor, received one to fourteen years on charges of grand larceny and joy riding.

Clarence Bertram and Leonard Hapstrom also received five-year minimum terms on robbery charges, while Hollie Danes completed the list with a sentence of one to fourteen years for manslaughter.

In his plea for mercy yesterday, Thibodeau declared that he was the victim of a narcotic agent's malice. He declared that he had worked for some time as an informant for the government but had not been paid. Judge James showed skepticism and imposed sentence.

NEW HOME

Motor Insurance Company and Affiliated Concern
Dedicate New Building

The formal opening of the new building of the Union Automobile Insurance Company and its corporate subsidiaries, the Union Automobile Club and the Union Club Garage, Sixth street at Loomis, was celebrated last evening by a reception and entertainment. Brokers and agents of the institution, together with friends of the corporation, were guests.

Following last evening's formal affair the building will remain open for the entire day today for inspection by the general public. This evening will be dancing on the roof garden from 7 until 10 o'clock. The entrance lobby and other open spaces will be decorated with flowers and searchlight illumination will be a feature of the celebration.

The building proper is Class A construction, L-shaped and was erected, not alone for the owning corporation, but to afford office facilities for business and professional tenants. Free parking space within the building is provided for the use of the tenants.

The building is the home of the Union Automobile Insurance Company, with quarters in Spanish design off the main lobby, while the lower floor is a large hall equipped for stores, each with full basement, and portions of the upper floors have been reserved to meet the needs of physicians, dentists and professional people.

The Union Automobile Insurance Company is headed by Joseph W. Wall as president and was incorporated in 1918, under the laws of the State of California. Its headquarters are at Lincoln, State Street, in the famous California building of Southern California.

Mr. Wall represented the institution under the laws of California in January, 1928.

Public Works Board in
Move to Cancel Part of
Contract Due to Delay

A ruling by the City Attorney to determine if it will be legal to cancel a portion of the contract on the structural steel for the new City Hall was asked by the Board of Public Works yesterday at a hot session of that body.

The architects of the new building, Austin, Martin & Parkinson, declared that the delivery of the steel was delayed, thus holding up progress on the structure. They said that part of the building had been erected several stories, while no work had been done on other sections.

The board sought the ruling, intimating that if it were permissible a portion of the contract would be cancelled and let out again.

W. B. Kyle, representing the McClintock Marshall Company, the contractor, declared that the contractor firm had the steel was at fault as to making delivery it could not be received on the job.

In rapid succession yesterday, Judge Hahn of the Superior Court sentenced a batch of seven men to San Quentin for periods ranging from one to fourteen years. The men all had been convicted by juries previously of various charges.

Albert Hubert, Melville Glynn and Charles Amos were the list. They were sentenced to San Quentin for periods ranging from one to fourteen years on charges of robbery.

Morris Rothstein, joy rider and occasionally film actor, received one to fourteen years on charges of grand larceny and joy riding.

Clarence Bertram and Leonard Hapstrom also received five-year minimum terms on robbery charges, while Hollie Danes completed the list with a sentence of one to fourteen years for manslaughter.

Periodic Council Clash
Results in Change of Plans for Nineteen Streets

The Council had one of its periodic town yesterday over the use of concrete or asphalt as a paving material on nineteen streets in the Fifth District.

After a long debate, in which the same ground was covered as had been done a score of times before, instructions to the City Attorney and City Engineer were adopted changing the paving on the streets in the improvement district from asphalt to six-inch concrete.

The action was instigated by Councilman Sparks and seconded by Councilman Hall. The vote was nine to six, Councilmen Colden, Zahn, Hughes, Crenwell, Allen and Jacobson opposing it.

The streets affected are twenty-first street from Bronson avenue to Tenth avenue; Twenty-seventh place from Cimarron street to Van Ness avenue; Plymouth Boulevard from Adams to Thirtieth street; Carmona avenue from Cologne Boulevard to Adams street; Mandfield avenue from Twenty-first to Adams street; Fremont avenue from La Brea to Alameda street; and Thirtieth place from Rosemead to Thirtieth street.
